Passing on the Knowledge: 1949

Portland Beavers first baseman Vince Shupe offers tips on taking throws during a two-day baseball school at Vaughn Street ballpark in August, 1949. The event was put on for many years by the Beavers and the Oregon School Activities Association. With Shupe are, left to right, Gordon Miller, 17, of Mills City; Charles Brown, 16, of Portland; and Robert Baldridge, 14, of Vancouver.

Old-Timers Baseball Association of Portland

January 13, 2018

To our guests this evening:

Welcome to the 84th Annual Old-Timers Baseball Association of Portland banquet, and Happy Birthday to the Old-Timers for their 84 years of baseball enthusiasm. Through your love of the American pastime, we have gathered this 30 days before catchers and pitchers report to spring training to again talk baseball with our friends, teammates and umpires. We thank the Harry Demorest Foundation and Davidson Benefits Planning for supporting this year's banquet.

At this time, we remember several outstanding members of the local baseball scene who passed away in 2017: Bobby Doerr, the Hall of Famer with the Boston Red Sox who made Oregon home most of his life; and Jeanette Bubalo, longtime baseball fan, wife of semi-pro player John Bubalo and mother of player and coach Mike Bubalo.

It was once again an outstanding year for baseball in Oregon in 2017. Don Freeman of the Old-Timers received news of his selection to the American Baseball Coaches Association Hall of Fame, joining fellow Old-Timers member Jack Dunn in that illustrious group. The West Linn Babe Ruth 14U team placed second in the nation. Numerous players from the state - including former OBAP scholarship winner Darwin Barney - saw playing time in the majors. Oregon State University had a season for the ages, going 56-6 en route to the Pacific-12 Conference title and College World Series; those playing included outfielder Jack Anderson (Lake Oswego High), infielder Andy Armstrong (West Salem High), outfielder Elliott Cary (Clackamas High), pitcher Brandon Eisert (Aloha High), infielder George Mendazona (Ridgeview High), pitcher Tommy Paul (Sherwood High), catcher Adley Rutschman (Sherwood High), catcher/infielder Zak Taylor (Sherwood High), pitcher Jake Thompson (Siuslaw High), pitcher Sam Tweedt (South Salem High) and pitcher Mitchell Verberg (Lake Oswego High). The Corvallis Knights won their second straight West Coast League championship with the help of Oregonians in catcher/third baseman Zak Taylor (Oregon State U./Sherwood High), Kolby Somers (U. of Oregon/Century High), Jordan Horak (U. of Portland/Lake Oswego High) and Matt Kelly (U. of Portland/Wilsonville High).

In the midst of tonight's fellowship and good feeling toward the game of baseball, also keep in mind the mission statement of the Old-Timers Baseball Association of Portland:

To enhance the reputation of the organization and its philosophy to serve both amateur and professional baseball in the Portland, Oregon and surrounding community; this organization will undertake the following:

1. Host the annual Awards Banquet, which will provide scholarship opportunities to deserving high school senior student-athletes based on academics, involvement in public service efforts, and athletic skill. The banquet will also serve as the annual formal opportunity to bring together all baseball enthusiasts, coaches, past and current amateur and professional athletes and, equally important, the many volunteers in the community.
2. Provide coaching and clinical forums to youth in various communities.
3. Sponsor an annual golf tournament, the proceeds of which will go toward community baseball youth programs and scholarship opportunities based on the above criteria.
4. Take an active position in the role of baseball in both the community-related and school-related programs.

Over the past 83 years, the Old-Timers Baseball Association of Portland has donated over $750,000 to the baseball community. This year, we anticipate donating over $15,000 for college scholarships to deserving young ballplayers and grants to youth baseball programs needing assistance. OBAP members have also staffed several coaching clinics during the past year. We accomplished these goals through efforts by board members to raise funds through the banquet and Diamond Classic golf tournament; to reach out to the baseball programs around the Portland area by offering clinics for the coaches; and by increasing the membership in the OBAP to over 500 baseball enthusiasts. We thank all of those association members and sponsors for their efforts and donations that have helped make our annual banquet and golf tournament successes. We'll again see the rewards of these efforts in 2018.

Enjoy the evening talking baseball. As Johnny Pesky told us a few years ago: he had been to hundreds of baseball banquets but this one in Portland is the best he ever attended!

Play Ball!!!

We are honored to have a number of outstanding figures in Oregon and national baseball circles with us this evening.

Pat O'Connor is president of Minor League Baseball, a post he assumed in 2007; he has been involved in professional baseball since 1981. O'Connor's work promoting, organizing and enhancing MiLB, and encouraging diversity in its ranks, has earned him numerous honors, including the Allan H. "Bud" Selig Award in 2010.

Rob Neyer has spent the past 20 years analyzing and writing about baseball after starting his career as a research assistant for stats guru Bill James. The Portland resident has worked for ESPN, SB Nation and Fox Sports along with writing six books about baseball.

PORTLAND BASEBALL UMPIRES ASSOCIATION

P.O. Box 17575 / Portland, OR 97217
(503) 709-0750

THE P.B.U.A. CONGRATULATES THE OLD-TIMERS BASEBALL ASSOCIATION OF PORTLAND FOR A JOB WELL DONE!

Each year the PBUA awards a $4,000 college scholarship to one high school senior baseball player who elects to play college baseball in Oregon. The winner is selected in May by our membership based on playing ability, financial need and academic standing. The program, which began in 1977, is named the Westover-Lehrer Memorial Scholarship in honor of two former umpires who contributed significantly to youth baseball in the Portland area. The scholarship is open to any senior baseball player from any of the high schools serviced by the PBUA. Applications may be obtained from their coach or their school scholarship counselor.

This year's winner:

Austen Carpenter of Gresham High School, who is now attending Oregon State University

EXTRA EARNING POSSIBILITY

There is a good opportunity for local baseball lovers to provide a much-needed service to local youth baseball and at the same time earn some extra income. The PBUA is always looking for umpires. You provide the willingness and we'll supply the best in training and an opportunity to work.
